BUDGET DOCTOR 2020

So you want to know if a digital planner works for you?

GREAT! Let's find out. You're going to need an app that annotates PDFs. I use Goodnotes 5 but there are lots of other ones like Noteability, Xodo, Noteshelf, etc.

Once you've downloaded this planner onto an app that can annotate it, let's see if you can click the tabs and buttons that'll be in the planner you want to purchase.

On the next page, follow the clicking prompts. If you're able to click on them and they take you to a page, you're ready to purchase your planner! If not, make sure to tap the pencil icon in the top right corner of the screen to switch between reading and editing mode.

- Reading Mode ➡ Hyperlinks are active- you can click tabs & buttons but cannot type/write
- Editing Mode ➡ Editing tools active and Hyperlinks are not active- cannot click tabs and buttons to switch pages

As long as you can navigate through the planner and write, you're ready for your digital planner!

Happy Planning!

With Love, Catherine

Tips For Use

Week 1 — Click the buttons to go to their corresponding pages → Week 1

Blank Page — Click the tabs to go to their corresponding pages →

Click this symbol to go to the index page

If the tabs/buttons are not working, make sure you're using your PDF markup app in 'Reading Mode'- tabs typically don't work in editing mode
